

When we listen to others and imagine how they're feeling, we're practicing empathy.

If kindness is a plant, empathy is the seed from which it grows.

